The Buttonwood Club
http://lallyschool.rpi.edu/students/buttonwood/index.html
Contact: See website
*The intention of the Buttonwood Club is to help students develop a better understanding of the global economy and ongoing financial markets and to assist students with job hunting and career preparation by sharing experiences and giving suggestions. The club is devoted to nurturing a culture of engagement, awareness and outreach among student with interest in Finance. The club strives to inculcate excellence and develop leadership skills for launching a career in finance. To serve its purpose and mission, the Buttonwood Club holds events and serves as a repository of information to assist Lally students in their efforts of awareness of current issues in financial markets, developing quantitative and analytical skills, investing and modeling techniques, job opportunities and networking necessary to be successful in pursuing a career in finance.

The Center for Financial Studies
http://www.lallyschool.rpi.edu/centers/cfs/index.html
Contact: Chanaka Edirisinghe, Professor, QFRA Program Director, edirin@rpi.edu
*The Center for Financial Studies (CFS) of the Lally School of Management strives to foster highest-quality research and learning in the fields of financial engineering, risk management, corporate finance, financial intermediation, and capital markets.

Confucius Business Club / Mandarin Club
http://lallyschool.rpi.edu/students/cbc.html
Contact: See Website
*If you are interested in China, join the Confucius Business Club to learn Mandarin, Chinese culture, and related opportunities in business. The Mandarin Club is an offering of the Confucius Business Club providing instruction in Mandarin Chinese.

Graduate (Lally) Management Student Association
http://lallyschool.rpi.edu/students/gmsa/index.html
Contact: See website
*The mission of the Rensselaer Graduate Management Student Association (GMSA) is to improve the education, quality of life, and performance of students in the Lally School of Management and Technology. The Association has three founding principles: social, success, and service. The Association works with the Lally School staff and faculty to provide a diverse assortment of extra-curricular, career, networking, cultural, and community development opportunities for Lally graduate students that fulfill the founding principles.
The Lally School of Management

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS & SERVICE

Lally Admissions Ambassadors
http://lallyschool.rpi.edu/admissions/ambassadors.html
Contact: Ginger Blake, Assistant Director, MBA/M.S. Admissions jurecg@rpi.edu
*The Lally Admissions Ambassadors Program is the student arm of the Lally admissions office. As full-time students, they provide a student perspective to campus visitors and represent Lally to prospective students. Ambassadors provide prospective students with authentic representations of the graduate experience at Lally. Student Ambassadors can help answer many of your frequently asked questions about MBA or M.S. programs at Lally.

Master’s Scholars Research Program
http://lallyschool.rpi.edu/admissions/scholarships.html
Contact: Christine Zinzow, Senior Student Services Administrator, zinzoc@rpi.edu
*The Masters’ Scholars Research Program (MSRP) provides students the opportunity to partner with researchers to design studies, analyze data, and/or convert their findings to benefit society. The outcomes can result in better management practices, commercialization of technology, or new approaches to global challenges. MSRP is a voluntary, selective program. Qualifying students will collaborate with Lally faculty or faculty across the Rensselaer campus to realize practical outcomes from research. Past participants in the program have received research fellowships as a result of their work, and others have helped faculty license technology or participate in the establishment of a high-tech venture.

Roebling Investment Fund
http://lallyschool.rpi.edu/students/smf.html
Contact: See website
Previous name: Student Managed Fund
*The Roebling Investment Fund, supported by the Lally School at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, aims to provide students with real experience in market research, investment management, and overall fund administration to develop their skills for future career endeavors.

The Severino Center for Technological Entrepreneurship
http://scte.rpi.edu/
Contact: Kelly Reardon, Senior Program Administrator, reardk@rpi.edu
*The Severino Center helps foster new generations of budding and successful entrepreneurs through outreach programs, education and support systems. The center supports student entrepreneurs as they seek to learn more about the business aspects of start-ups and early stage companies. Programs in partnership with successful serial entrepreneurs and professionals from multiple industries assist students through the entrepreneurial process. Faculty and experienced entrepreneurs mentor students who are developing business plans or who want to work with early stage companies.