Sr. Student Services Administrator

Lori Jancik is a Sr. Student Services Administrator for Lally's undergraduates. She assists with academic advising and Lally student group activities, and serves as a first point of contact for any issue from student recruitment through to graduation.

Born in Pennsylvania, Lori holds a BA in International Studies and History from Butler University, an MA in History from the University of Maryland, and NYS certification to teach social studies. Her professional experience includes nuclear energy policy for a Japanese firm; public relations for the Smithsonian Institution; grant writing; and professional development, academic enrichment, and study abroad advising for undergraduates.

She resides in Niskayuna with her daughter and what appears to be a cattle dog-dingo mix.

Fun fact: While a teen in Florida, I raced BMX bikes...just not really well.
